Heinrich Heine, The Lorelei

tradukita de Mark Twain

An ancient legend of the Rhine

I cannot divine what it meaneth, This haunting nameless pain: A tale of the bygone ages Keeps brooding through my brain:

The faint air cools in the gloaming, And peaceful flows the Rhine, The thirsty summits are drinking The sunset's flooding wine;

The loveliest maiden is sitting High-throned in yon blue air, Her golden jewels are shining, She combs her golden hair;

She combs with comb that is golden, And sings a weird refrain That steeps in a deadly enchantment The listener's ravished brain:

The doomed in his drifting shallop, Is tranced with the sad sweet tone, He sees not the yawing breakers, He sees but the maid alone:

The pitiless billwos engulf him!-So perish sailor and bark; And this, with her baleful singing, Is the Lorelei's gruesome work.
